did you leave your gun at home?" " I always take my gun." " OK, good." "Let's get in the car." "Why the fuck did you tell me about the gun?" "Because you wouldn't let me leave." "Why are you trying to draw me in?" " We're not." " Bullshit!" "Ya think I'm falling for this shit?" "Fuck that!" "It's part of the game." "It's a ruse." "What are you really after?" "You're on my turf now." "You need my permission to leave." " OK, show me what you got." " You all right?" "You good?" " I'm good." " OK." "Let's go in." "Ow!" "Fuck!" " You got him?" " Fuck!" "Ow!" "Christ!" "You son of a bitch!" "You're a dead man!" "You're a dead man!" "You hear me?" "God damn it!" "Good evening, and welcome to our television debut." "My name is Waldo Pepper." "Tonight we discuss the difference between violent crime and crime as entertainment." "Hello?" "Excuse me." "We have a line on a 10-year-old girl in Brighton Beach." "She's possibly in the company of a Mr. Pepper." "I'm sorry, who are you?" "I'm Mr. Pepper." "Do you have an appointment?" "You're not from the home." "You're too young." "Wait." "No, I'm not too young." "I'm young." "Yes, you're too young, sir." "You're only young once." "No!" "Ah!" "I've been young every day for the last 50 years." "Yeah, that's good." "Look, I don't know who you're talking about." "No, you wouldn't, because she's 10 years old." "10 years old, I'm saying, or... or maybe, maybe..." "Hello?" "Oh, call me back when you're ready to deal." "The price is two million." "I'll call you back." "The price is two million." "The price is two million." "The price is two million." "The price is two million." "Good evening, and welcome to our television debut." "My name is Waldo Pepper." "Tonight we shall discuss the difference between violent crime and crime as entertainment." What's New in the Photoshop 2021 (Version 22.4.2)?

Blog Overwhelmed by Big Data? We Can Help Several data visualization/analytics vendors are latching onto big data and working on enterprise-wide tools. According to a recent Gartner survey of BI vendors, there are also a significant number of startups doing the same. Enterprise startups like MapD and Alteryx are prodding the traditional BI vendors to step up their game in big data analysis. All the while, startups like Qbox, Qlik, Cloudera, Tableau and Indextank are building big data/data visualization tools for consumer-facing products. Here is the good news: If your company is not talking about big data and data analytics in your vision statement, it should be! Companies are realizing that data is the fuel that powers big business, and that it cannot be ignored. So, how are the traditional BI vendors responding to all these emerging solutions? 1. The New BI Vendors Are Focusing on Big Data/Data Analytics/Visualization The new vendors are coming up with newer technologies and services that rely on big data. By using an umbrella term such as data visualization, they are targeting their products to a broad array of big data solutions. Tableau is using big data to build a new kind of visual analytics that they say will ultimately change the way we think about analytics. MapD, on the other hand, is more focused on providing a data management solution to handle big data and data analytics. 2. Traditional BI Vendors Are Toughening Up Tableau is one of the newer vendors that has been trying to appeal to enterprise users by giving them a big data/data analytics solution. Last month, it launched Tableau Everywhere, which is a subscription platform. Tableau did not just launch Tableau Everywhere, it completely redesigned the client-side user interface (UI) for the tool. It also added context navigation, unified analytics and map views, and more powerful drill-down analysis. Tableau released Tableau Server, which also has several big data features and connectors. Tableau Server is now able to run inside a standard Linux Virtual Machine, which is part of the Tableau server Cloud model. Tableau introduced the first cloud service that allows developers to integrate with and build data applications. While Tableau gained popularity for creating marketing analytics dashboards, MapD emerged by focusing on a data management solution that includes data preparation and reporting and
