Kevin Conners book The Foundation of Christian Doctrine is a landmark work, benefitting us all with a solid view of the theology of renewal as it unites with the historic truths of Gods Word always embraced by the living church. Jack Hayford For students who are new to the study of Christian doctrine, Kevin Conner provides a simple introduction to the entire program, and at the end of each chapter he provides an outline of what is covered in the study. Some of the topics included in this course are: the nature of God, sin, salvation, the priesthood of Christ, the covenants of peace and grace, the importance of seeking the Holy Spirit, sanctification, the Christian life, Christian Apologetics, Ecclesiastical Authority, and Scripture. The focus of this study on doctrine is due to its intrinsic importance. In the second chapter, Kevin Conner talks about the subject of this course. He states that "doctrine is about God, sin, salvation, the priesthood of Christ, the covenants of peace and grace, the importance of seeking the Holy Spirit, sanctification, the Christian life, Christian Apologetics, Ecclesiastical Authority, and the Scriptures". This is a fairly succinct definition, and if you think about it in this way, it makes perfect sense.
